Q: Does ASP.NET Reuqite.ReportViewer run before/after the page's load event? ASP.NET features a nice feature: if you don't use any of the ReportViewer controls available out of the box, you can get a nice sample report-page that is exactly equivalent to your desired report-viewer format. But how does that work? It seems that the resulting page is render in three steps: the page's Render() method is called, and then the control's Page_Load() handler is called, and then the control's Render() method is called. Obviously the third step (the control's Render()) is what produces the output you're looking at, but the question is, where does the sample page that produces that output come from? What's happening to cause that sample page to be the output? A: After a little bit of digging, I found what I'm looking for: it's the Page_Load() handler for ReportViewer. Though it sounds obvious (because that's the page's responsibility) that if you don't want to use the samples, you can't use one, but that page's Handler makes it look like you don't need to care. If your real page does what I believe this one does, you have to make sure that the control is registered before the handler, or you're going to have an unexpected result in your control, and a confusing one to boot.

Q: How to share NSMutableArray objects in different methods in C++ to Objective-C using objective-c++ I have an NSMutableArray in Objective-C which is in my C++ class I want to use this NSMutableArray in my C++ class method. How to share this NSMutableArray to Objective-C or Objective-C++? A: Write the header file for your class class MyClass { public: static NSMutableArray* sharedMutableArray; private: NSMutableArray* _mutableArray; }; //after this class is declared: NSMutableArray* MyClass::sharedMutableArray = [NSMutableArray arrayWithObjects:@"one", @"two", @"three", nil]; Then write you own method for this class by marking the header file "implementation". In the implementation file write something like this MyClass::MyClass() { if (MyClass::sharedMutableArray!= nil) { return; } NSMutableArray* array = [NSMutableArray arrayWithObjects:@"one", @"two", @"three", nil]; MyClass::sharedMutableArray = array; } Q: Increase size of custom memory I'm on a cross-platforms application which has to do a lot of memory management. For that,

The third game in the 2013 indie game smash hit TxK series. In TxK3 you must... Crossroads is finally coming to Steam on May 22. Mark your calendars. "Crossroads brings the class based team up action of Kane and Lynch into an urban setting. You play the role of Travis, an ex-con who escapes prison with the help of a wise cracker, Duke. Your goal is to infiltrate and liberate a high security prison. Your objective is not to kill all the guards or destroy the prison, but to escape with a selected group of inmates and free them. The game features a new ranking system that allows your team to earn points and unlock new weapons and other items. Meet new and familiar characters from the original Kane and Lynch games, and a whole new cast of characters." "The Swarm" is a new FTL-like space invaders game with a terrible and unique format. You will have to survive and destroy as many insects as you can while avoiding time bombs. You are in control of a small space ship and you must deal with other space invaders. If you get too close to a time bomb you will explode and the game will end for you. And that's not all: if you play your role right, you can help your allies by dealing damage to enemies and blocking their shots. An ultimate strategy title that will change your way to look at these games. Drake's Fortune is a huge new 4X strategy adventure set in the desert world of Xenon. You'll take on the role of the hero Drake, who must explore and colonize a strange and mysterious world. Other characters can join your crew throughout the game - each one with their own unique set of skills, strengths and weaknesses. You'll find that local wildlife provide a valuable source of scientific knowledge. You'll also be able to upgrade your ship over the course of the game. Be wary of the dangers in this alien world; there's another player on this machine. Atk is a modern platforming action adventure that features a unique feature with a puzzle element that allows you to solve the level by yourself. With a customisable interface and a different difficulty level, it offers a fair challenge for players of all skill levels and age. This game mixes platforming with a simple shooting gallery system. As always, we leave the environment to the player to decide how he

You get to play as one of 7 different characters. Each has their own story and background, from a murderer to a traitor to a simple person that wants to do good. The game has several difficulty levels, so the adventure is not easy. Features: Two main campaign: 1. City of Lost Souls. You play as one of 7 heroes, you will fight a traitor in the biggest city in Tascaria. You have the chance to discover what happened to the city and restore its lost glory. 2. The world of dragon-folk. Battle against the last dragon tribe on the continent of Tascaria. You will have to fight them for their power in the epic final battle. Several skills / upgrades Morale, Karma, and 5 different difficulties All the heroes have different elemental affinities and special abilities. Tactical combat system with pausable real time combat, multiple elements to handle You can't just spam, you need to coordinate. Real time combat Pause whenever you want during combat, give orders to your characters, take your time to think your next move, and coordinate the actions of your characters. Skill tree system Allows you to specialize in different skills, such as archery, heavy armour, fire, etc. 4 Elementals: Earth, Water, Air, Fire Witchcraft You can use parts of spells to create abilities that will let you manipulate your character's form (you need to cast by yourself if you want to use it). Customization / weapon skins Equipment and the weapons that you wield, can be customized. You can also create your own custom skins for your weapons. Environmental Hazards During combats you have to care not only about the enemy, but also about the environment. Fire, lava, falling rocks, water pools. They are a big part of the game, and with each death you lose karma points. Permadeath Once your heroes die, that's it. But you can recruit more heroes to make your group stronger. Replayability Procedurally generated regions, different sides of the same story, varied unlockable heroes, weapons and abilities keep the game interesting on subsequent runs. You play as one of 7 different characters. Each has their own story and background, from a murderer to a traitor to a simple person that wants to do good. The game has
